

OPEN MEETING 2026

The Open Meeting 2026 was co-hosted by the Blood Synergy and OPTIMAL Centre of Research Excellence, and welcomed over 250 participants in person and online. This years program explored why transfusion research matters, how current research is reframing immunoglobulin use, and new research endeavours to improve blood product use and patient outcomes.

A heartfelt thank you to everyone who joined us and contributed to the meeting's success - our audience, guests, speakers, and facilitators. We are especially grateful to those who traveled long distances from overseas to be with us, as well as those who presented remotely across different time zones.

We extend our sincere appreciation to our international speakers and facilitators - Prof Mike Murphy, Dr Paul Strengers, Prof Robert Weinkove, and Prof Simon Stanworth - and to all of our presenters and chairs for making this such an engaging and impactful event.
